The Fourteenth Amendment, written as a Reconstruction amendment after the Civil War, was intended to benefit recently freed slaves who were being denied their rights in the South. The first sentence of the amendment states that "all persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the [!]"

Game engines provide game developers a framework for creating a video game without the need to create all systems, such as the physics, graphics, and AI, from scratch. Game engines help developers save time and resources by removing the need to program and integrate game-supporting systems together
